

AVoptics announces Daniels Manufacturing Corporation (DMC) as the official distributor for Fiber Optic Products in North America

AVoptics Ltd of the United Kingdom is pleased to announce they have chosen Daniels Manufacturing Corporation of USA to exclusively represent their products and services in the North America region. AVoptics specializes in providing fiber optic support solutions for harsh environments such as Aerospace, Defense, Mass Transit and Petrochemical Industries. DMC is a recognized leader in tool systems for the Aerospace, Military and Telecommunication industry.

The Managing Director of AVoptics, Mr. Voizey said: "We are extremely pleased to announce this important partnership with Daniels Manufacturing Corporation; they are a world leading brand in high quality electrical hand tools and tool kit solutions in key markets. Our fiber optic products and skills are designed for the same demanding markets and so this arrangement will strengthen both AVoptics and DMC's capability to offer their customers world beating Fiber Optic solutions."

AVoptics product range includes a series of portable Fiber Optic Termination and Repair kits called AVliterepair™. This offers the unique range of re-termination, inspection, test and repair kits for harsh environment fiber optics.

AVliterepair™ kits support fiber optics using novel patented technologies to provide a rapid, reliable and economical support for your fiber optic applications.

Some of the unique features to the AVliterepair™ kits are a rapid curing system, hand held fiber polishing, full battery powered operation, and interferometric test & validation. Everything needed to re-terminate fiber optics can be conveniently packaged to meet customer requirements. Kits are available in a military–standard, ruggedized, portable case or in a workshop tool chest.

Mr. Don Malinovsky, the General Manager of DMC, said: "This partnership offers the customers who depend on DMC Maintenance and Production Tools and Kits the best possible solution for their fiber optic needs. The AVoptics product line is a synergistic solution to the Harsh Environment Fiber Optic repair and maintenance requirements of OEM, Civil, and Military systems. DMC is pleased to support the North American market with the AVoptics Fiber Optic Kits and related products. DMC and AVoptics have pledged to work closely to give priority to the needs of each customer in this highly diverse product range."
